

One Hour Affiliate

A Complete Amazon Affiliate
Marketing Blueprint

BY ERICA STONE

No
Upsells

No hosting or domain expense

No
keyword research

Bonus Guide

from

PotPieGirl

I absolutely LOVE the new 1..2..3 One Hour Affiliate strategy from Erica Stone.

It is a strategy that everyone and ANYONE can follow to bring in some extra money as an Amazon affiliate (or any affiliate program, for that matter).

The only issue I have with the training guide is an issue I feared might happen...and then saw actually DID happen to some folks in the product forum thread.

Problem: New Blogger Blogs Getting DELETED

Ack!

That's not good at all and sure makes you feel as if you've hit a brick wall with that “nothing will EVER work for ME” sad feeling.

I don't want that happening to my folks so I'd like to share my knowledge and findings after having many, many blogger/blogspot blogs for many, many years.

I've officially had ONE suspended for spam.

Know why?

I did all I could to MAKE it happen.

I wanted to know where the 'line in the sand' was that caused a new blogger blog to get suspended for spam/TOS violations as an affiliate marketer.

Note: NO, I did not do BAD things with that blog – I simply way overdid it as an affiliate to see what would happen.

Also to note: I got that blog UN-suspended as well. ;)

First off, the suspending/deleting of new blogs (and some older ones as well) happens by an algorithm. It's not real human beings looking at your blog...it's an automated thing that looks for "footprints" and other things that are deemed common of spam blogs.

A blog that serves no purpose other than to sell things is considered a 'spam blog' to the Blogger staff (ie, Google – since they own Blogger/Blogspot).

That means, if you take out your affiliate links, does your content serve ANY purpose at all?

If you read through Erica's guide, and think about that question, you can see how an automated algorithm might tag a new 'One Hour Affiliate' blog as spam. Agree?

I'm going to share some tips as well as my example blogger blog to help you start your new blog (and hopefully many new future blogs) off on the right foot and at least pass that initial automatic 'sniff test' that all new Blogger blogs go thru.

This Bonus Guide is pretty much a supplement guide that fits in right after page 42 of Erica's main guide.

Complete set up >> Bonus Guide >> Continue on Page 43 of Erica's Guide.

That's the easy way, but to be totally honest, I don't do that.

I do NOT do the full set up and all the changes and edits, etc when I first start a new blog.

Why?

Well, doesn't a brand new blog with all these fancy SEO changes and affiliate disclosures just SCREAM, "I'm gonna be an affiliate blog!!!!"

Yep, it sure does!

If **I** was the one programming the algorithm that performs the initial 'sniff test' on new blogs, I'd totally include the Amazon disclosure wording, wouldn't you?

And then, there are a sudden burst of new posts that ALL have affiliate links and keyword-targeted titles?

Sniff...sniff... FAIL!

My best advice – do NOT do that.

Naturally, I cannot guarantee that my tips n' tricks will protect your blog from EVER getting tagged as spam, but so far, over all these years, my record is pretty darn good.

Here we go... these are the exact steps I take to protect a new One Hour Affiliate blog from deletion.

Rule #1 ....

To read the rest of this bonus guide to learn how to help protect your new Blogger One Hour Affiliate blog from being deleted...

==>> Buy One Hour Affiliate thru this link

and you will get the rest of this Bonus Guide for free =)

It will be found right under your main download link.